REFUGEES FROM MEXICO CITY DESCRIBE DANGERS AFTER U. S. TOOK VERA CRUZ

Mobs Formed at Once in the Streets and Old Glory Was Trampled Under Foot—Foreigners Rushed to the Previously Arranged Meeting Places—Windows Shattered by Mobs—All Americans Threatened With Assassination. Position of Americans in Mexico City Regarded as Serious.

By Associated Press.

Mexico City, via refugee train to Vera Cruz, April 24—Mobs in the streets in Mexico City were trampling under foot the stars and stripes and were threatening American pedestrians when the refugee train engaged under the auspices of the German and British Legations left for Vera Cruz, carrying some 500 fugitives of various nationalities.

The position of those American citizens left in the Federal Capital was regarded as serious. Nelson O'Shaughnessy, in charge of the Embassy at Mexico City, Lt. Rowan, of the Navy and Captain Wm. A. Burnside of the army, were to leave on Thursday night for Manzanillo, on the Pacific coast, under special arrangements with Provisional President Huerta.

Immediately after the news of the landing of American bluejackets and marines at Vera Cruz was made known in the Federal Capital by extra editions of the local newspapers crowds of students and government office employees began to gather. By dusk a mob had assembled in front of the American Club, where they smashed windows and howled insults and threats at the American citizens inside, all of whom they threatened to assassinate.

An appeal to the Governor of the Federal District brought police protection, but not before the crowd had shattered many of the windows in the Club House and in adjoining American properties.

At 2 o'clock in the morning bands of excited Mexicans marched through the streets singing the Mexican national anthem and shouting, "death to the Americans." An American jewelry store was looted by mob at mid-night. The police look on without taking any action. The American Club, the leading American hostelry, and the offices of the Mexican Herald were closed owing to threats of the mob.

The British, German and French in the Federal Capital were prepared at a moment's notice to gather in the previously arranged concentration district, which had been provisioned to stand a siege. The newspapers, probably acting under directions of General Huerta, issued many extra editions in which they printed dispatches stating THAT EL PASO, LAREDO, NOGALES AND OTHER PLACES HAD BEEN TAKEN BY THE MEXICANS.

Other dispatches announced that the Federal troops had gained a great victory at Vera Cruz where they expected to surround and drive the American invaders into the sea.

The papers also declared that the battleship Louisiana had been sunk by a Mexican torpedo. An alleged dispatch from the south said that Rebel Zapata was coming to join forces with General Huerta.

TAMPICO, where the insult to the American flag occurred, is the chief commercial city of the state of Tamaulipas and ranks next to Vera Cruz as a seaport. It has a population of about 20,000. It is a flat city with an unbroken water front.

The Future Depends On Gen. Huerta

Americans strengthening their positions.

Ball Begins if Huerta declares war.

Have lost track of O'Shaughnessy again.

Troops have strangle hold of Vera Cruz.

By Associated Pess.

Washington, D. C., April 24.—President Wilson and his war staff today proceeded with their plans for operations in Mexico with business-like expedition. The day found every available American war ship plowing southward for the Mexican coast on the Atlantic and Pacific, and a full brigade of the First Army division shipping in transports from Galveston for Vera Cruz.

This army force would place more than 10,000 American troops in the Mexican seaport to hold the city, or begin offensive operations toward Mexico City with Vera Cruz as a base. No plans for further aggressive movements about Vera Cruz were made today.

The President said that for the present no general campaign outside of Vera Cruz was planned and that no further campaign would be begun unless General Huerta declared war or sought reprisal for the seizure of the city.

Meantime reports from Rear Admiral Badger in Vera Cruz said that the city was comparatively quiet and that bands from the American fleet gave concerts on the streets, where a few hours before the rattle of rifle shots had heralded disaster. By tomorrow Admiral Badger will have 6500 marines and bluejackets ashore at Vera Cruz, sufficient, he says to repulse any effort that may be made by Mexican forces under General Maas now at Soledad, 30 miles away, to regain possession of the city.

The whereabouts of Nelson O'Shaughnessy, who last night informed the State department that he was leaving Mexico City with his passports, is now a matter of some speculation. He had announced his intention of going to Vera Cruz by railroad, but private dispatches today reported him on his way to Manzanillo on the Pacific coast.

Secretary Daniels of the Navy said that no attack on American forces by Constitutionalists in northern Mexico was feared.

The point is raised that it is necessary to know where to look for indemnifications for losses which may be sustained through events accruing in Mexico. It is claimed that if war formally is declared, or if a blockade is proclaimed by the U. S. ship owners having fair notice will start cargoes for the blockaded ports only at their own risk and peril; but in the absence of such declaration or proclamation it is claimed shippers have a legal right to expect cargoes shall not be seized or detained, and it is expected some pressure will be brought to bear upon the State department to clear up the situation.

Vera Cruz, April 24.—American marines and bluejackets control today a radius of at least five miles around the city of Vera Cruz, in which normal conditions had been virtually restored. Outposts were pushed further out in a southerly direction to the water supply station at Tejar and marines and sailors were dispatched there on a train to obtain control of all pipe lines into the city. Rear Admiral Badger now commands approaches to the city. Within the city sniping had almost ceased this morning. A close watch was kept all night for sharpshooters by patrols. Orders have been issued that all civilians keep within their residences after 7:30 p. m. and these were strictly obeyed. Some 3000 Americans, mostly women and children left for Galveston on board the Esperanza, and arrangements have been made for removing from the coast towns all Americans who can be induced to leave. More than 1000 Americans are reported to have left Tampico, where they were given most urgent advice that they had better make their departure.

REPORT DENIED

Washington, D. C., April 24.—Diplomatic officials here today denied reports that Thomas B. Harper, Charge of the British Embassy at Mexico City, had been sent to confer with Admiral Fletcher at Vera Cruz with a view to opening diplomatic negotiations for a solution of the Mexican difficulty.

BIG MARKET FOR WEAPONS

By Associated Press.

Washington, D. C., April 24.—Fear of Texans along the Mexican border that the Constitutionalist forces might invade the border towns, caused a flood of telegrams received by Representative Garner of Texas, who immediately conferred with the War department. Garner told the War department authorities that there were 30,000 to 40,000 people standing in line in Texas towns awaiting an opportunity to buy guns.

State Department Not Concerned In Embargo Revival

Washington, D. C., April 24.—"Hold all shipments of arms until further notice." The Treasury Department today sent this order to collectors of customs to assist the War Department in its efforts to enforce the embargo. The embargo in force today against arms and ammunition along the Mexican border was a military measure taken by the War Department. It was declared as a part of the operations of the army and navy and no action by the State Department was involved.

By this means the technical re-establishment of the legal embargo, which, it was thought, might embarrass the administration in its attitude toward the Constitutionalists in northern Mexico, was avoided. The embargo will be enforced by the entire military organization on the border and under military orders to customs authorities.

THINGS LOOK QUITE ROSY

By Associated Press.

Washington, D. C., April 24.—Members of the cabinet after a two-hour session at the White House evince an optimistic spirit as to the Mexican situation. It was stated that no further offensive operations in Mexico had been decided on. The cabinet devoted much of its time to the consideration of the Colorado strike situation and departmental affairs.

ARE WE AT WAR OR ARE WE NOT?

By Associated Press.

Washington, D. C., April 24.—Symptoms of uneasiness over the present indefinite status of the relations between Mexico and the United States are beginning to manifest themselves in diplomatic circles and it is expected that the attention of the State department will be called to the advisability of issuing a statement to make it clear whether or not a state of war actually exists. Some diplomatic representatives here have been in receipt of inquiries from their own government on this point.

COLQUITT WILL DEFEND TEXAS

By Associated Press.

Austin, Texas, April 24.—An entire regiment of the Texas National Guard was today ordered to mobolize at Brownsville for border patrol duty. Governor Colquitt will order the other two regiments to the border unless a request to Secretary of War Garrison for additional troops for Texas border patrol duty is granted.

PLAN SUITS U. S.

By Associated Press.

Washington, D. C., April 24.—Cooperation in Mexican border patrol operations it was made known here today will be welcomed by the War department, providing there can be arranged a division of territory to be assigned to state or federal forces in a manner that will avoid any conflict of authority. If Governor Colquitt's state troops can be placed in exclusive charge of certain designated portions of the border, the War department, it is said, would gladly accept the aid of the state forces.

TWO MORE DEAD

By Associated Press.

Washington, D. C., April 24.—A dispatch from Rear Admiral Badger today adds two more names to the list of dead marines.

Call For Soldiers Desired

Army and Navy Board Wants 400,000.

TROOPS ON THE MOVE

Brigade Ordered to Vera Cruz, Others to Border.

FORERUNNER OF OTHER ORDERS

Major General Wood, Who Has Been Designated to Lead the Army Campaign in Mexico, Will Soon Be On His Way to the Front—Steps Taken by the Department to Meet Situation Created by General Carranza and the Constitutionalists—Latest Developments.

Washington, April 24.—The latest developments in the Mexican situation are: A brigade of infantry at Galveston was ordered to leave immediately for Vera Cruz; additional troops were ordered to Texas for service on the border; orders were issued from the war department restoring the embargo on all shipments of arms across the Mexican border.

The troop movements are the first ordered in the present Mexican crisis. They are merely the forerunners of other orders, which will follow in quick succession. Within the next few days more troops will undoubtedly be following the 4,500 infantrymen now ordered to Vera Cruz, and Major General Leonard Wood, who has been designated to lead the army campaign in Mexico, probably will be on his way to the front.

While this movement of troops is designed to reinforce and fortify the forces already thrown against Huerta and his followers, the orders which went forth from the war department relate more immediately to Carranza and the Constitutionalists. The renewal of the embargo on arms and ammunition will be a blow to the rebels in the northern part of Mexico, while the movement of new troops into Texas is designed directly to protect Americans against outbreaks along the border.

Every indication now points to the fact that there will soon be a call for volunteers. Steps were taken by President Wilson to hurry action on the volunteer army bill now pending in congress, and information was conveyed to members of the senate that the president probably will issue a call within the next few days for 50,000 volunteers. It was represented to members of the senate that this call would be followed by others up to a maximum of 250,000 men. The plans of the joint army and navy board in the event of actual war contemplate a call for as many as 400,000 volunteers.

REQUESTS 400,000 SOLDIERS

Washington, April 24.—The war department has recommended to President Wilson that he ask congress for authority to call for 400,000 volunteers to deal with the Mexican situation. The department fears international complications involving Japan, and at the same time is impressed with the extremity of conditions in Mexico since Carranza has apparently taken a hostile attitude.

The Fifth brigade, Funston commanding, is now on board transports at Galveston, ready to move to Vera Cruz, and a provisional brigade of cavalry, engineers, sappers, etc., is preparing to embark.

Reports of the impending resignation of Secretary Bryan were renewed, and it is also stated that Secretary Daniels is to retire.

SEIZE REBEL AMMUNITION

El Paso, Tex., April 24.—Mayor Kelly had a conference with all ammunition dealers and asked that they refuse to sell arms or ammunition to Mexicans. All agreed. Americans bought rifles, shotguns and ammunition all day. United States troops seized 279,000 rounds of ammunition. The ammunition had been stored in El Paso by the Mexican rebels and the seizure was made by the military authorities on telegrams from Washington.

FIFTEEN KILLED MANY WOUNDED

Result of the Fighting In the City of Vera Cruz.

ADMIRAL BADGER FILES REPORT

American Force Now Ashore Totals More Than Five Thousand Men, but Desultory Firing Continues. Admiral Fletcher Making Every Effort to Induce City Authorities to Resume Their Duties.

Washington, April 24.—Three dead and 23 wounded were the reports of the fighting in Vera Cruz yesterday. This makes 15 Americans who have been killed and 53 wounded in the three days of fighting. The navy department gave out this bulletin:

"Admiral Badger wires that he landed a battalion from the Minnesota, Michigan and South Carolina, and that the landing force now ashore totals 5,400 men. The Minnesota, Chester, Prairie and San Francisco are lying in the inner harbor. Admiral Badger reports that as a result of desultory firing which continued about the city three more American sailors were killed and about 25 wounded. The landing party now occupies all the city, and outposts have been stationed on the sand hills in the rear, who have been engaged in constructing defensive works. Admiral Fletcher, who is in command on shore, is making every effort to induce Mexican municipal authorities to resume their duties and take up the administration of the city. He reports negotiations fairly successful so far. All work in the city is still stopped and no business is being transacted. The public service utilities have stopped because the employes refuse to run the eventual risk to themselves of resuming employment.

"Very little food supply has been coming into the city and it is thought that if in a few days the question of feeding the people of the city will become paramount, that it is possible the United States will be called upon to furnish food. The water supply is also causing some anxiety. The Mexican forces are disposed along the railroad line, and while Admiral Badger reports the rumor that they are preparing to attack, he adds that it is doubted that this is true, and expresses his belief that any attack can be successfully resisted."

EL PASO ATTACK AGAIN RUMORED

New York, April 24.—Rumors that emanated from a source that could not be questioned reached New York that President Wilson had sent a message direct to General Carranza informing him that our armed forces can not now evacuate Vera Cruz, but assuring him that if he goes ahead with his campaign this government will evacuate Vera Cruz as soon as he arrives in Mexico City with his forces. From the same source there also came a rumor that General Villa was outside Juarez with 5,000 men waiting for orders to attack El Paso, across the river.

VILLA BALKS?

El Paso, Tex., April 24. — General Francisco Villa, head of the rebel military forces, informed George C. Carothers, special agent of the state department, that he will decline to be dragged into a war with the United States by anybody.

REFUGEES SCURRY

Washington, April 24. — The navy department gave out the following today: "Admiral Fletcher wired from Vera Cruz at 9:20 Thursday night announcing the safe arrival of a refugee train from Mexico city, which carried 50 English, 150 Americans, 300 Mexicans and 75 Germans."

OFFERS PROTECTION TO ALL FOREIGNERS

Chihuahua, April 24.—Venustiano Carranza, "first chief of the Constitutionalists," declared that in case of war with the United States he will give full protection to all Americans in Constitutionalist territory until they arrive safely at the border. He will furnish them trains. In answer to a question he said: "I can not tell you what further action I will take if the United States does not withdraw its troops from Vera Cruz, for I will guide my future acts by the answer the American government gives to my message."

What It May Mean

Rudely awakening the United States from a dream of peaceful adjustment of Mexican difficulties, came the news Tuesday night that American blood had been shed.

The averting of that calamitous development, which President Wilson and the great majority of the people have been anxiously fearing, seemed no longer possible.

The United States had demanded, to close the incident at Tampico, only that form of atonement which is universally recognized, the salute of the flag of an offended nation.

President Wilson is most adverse to plunging the nation into war, but the American flag must stand for American honor, for American protection and power, no matter what the cost.

If the present procedure of the administration, that of reprisal, has the effect of sooner or later, bringing the Mexicans to the point of saluting the flag in atonement for the indignities heaped upon this government, the gratitude of both nations will be due to the President and his policy.

But American rights, American interests, American citizenship must be protected, even at the terrible toll of war.

The Uniied States is not looking for aggrandizement, but if the acts of reprisal, made imperative by the impudence of Huerta's refusal to meet a nation's just demands, and the inhumanity of his government cannot be compelled in any other way, for the second time the United States might be forced to engage in war with Mexico.

The arrival of Badger's squadron, the seizing of the custom house by marines and blue-jackets, the shelling of Mexicans out of their position, the subsequent acts of antagonism can be construed in no other way.

To the civilized world, with its knowledge of what war with a semi-barbaric nation would mean, the possibilities of such a war is absolutely sickening.

A country of half Indians, not far removed from savagery, the horrors of half civilized warfare would be added to fatalities and manifold miseries. The Mexicans are reckless fighters, although lacking military tactics, generalship and systematic methods of warfare.

There would be little hope that a march from Vera Cruz or the Rio Grande to the city of Mexico would not be marked by a trail of blood.

To engage in war with Mexico might prove a task of months, possibly of years, of great expenditure, even vast loss of life; or it might mean speedy victory, giving little opportunity for glory, but welcome indeed to the peace loving spirit of the American people.

It is in the hope that the present acts of reprisal will not lead to the horrors of war that, while the United States government holds the custom house at Vera Cruz, the same government issues a proclamation that the city authorities are to continue managing the city government.

That the demands of patriotism would be fully met by the United States as a unit was verified when the news that American blood had been shed was flashed over the wires.

Like a tremendous wave, patriotism engulfed our country and thousands are waiting to offer their services to their beloved country. If only shot and shell and the sacrifice of young manhood can bring order out of the present shaos, America's stalwart sons are waiting to prove their loyalty with their lives.

Hope still exists, terrified as it is by present conditions, that on the very brink of war as the United States stands this sacrifice of American patriotism will be averted without loss of honor.

Public Schools Not Founded to Furnish Clinics For Sex Mad Fanatics

By Bishop WARREN A. CANDLER of Methodist Episcopal Church South

A LONG process of reformers (so called) have sought to bring to pass all sorts of machine made "millenniums." If they deal with the social evil they proceed on the notion that purity is only possible to those who are above want or have good wages. They are never deeply concerned to work on the souls of men and women, but they are absorbed in trying to improve surroundings. THEY HAVE MORE FAITH IN THE POWER OF ENVIRONMENT THAN IN THE STRENGTH OF CONSCIENCE. They have done much to lead multitudes of men and women to wait for something to be done for them rather than by them before undertaking to live virtuously.

NOW OUR REFORMERS, WHO HAVE BEEN GIVING SUCH ATTENTION TO ENVIRONMENT FOR MANY YEARS AND WHO HAVE FAILED, TURN TO A VAIN ATTEMPT TO REGULATE HEREDITY. HENCE THIS HUGE SCHEME OF EUGENICS, WHICH IS, INDEED, A TRAGIC BLUNDERING WITH SACRED THINGS. ALREADY IT HAS YIELDED A CORRUPTING BULK OF SALACIOUS TALK ABOUT SEX HYGIENE AND SEX INSTRUCTION IN THE PUBLIC SCHOOLS. THE WHOLE DISGUSTING MOVEMENT RESTS ON THE ASSUMPTION OF MAN'S SAMENESS WITH THE BRUTES. IT LEAVES ENTIRELY OUT OF THE ACCOUNT MAN'S FREEDOM OF WILL, WHICH DIVINE CHARACTERISTIC LIFTS HIM INFINITELY ABOVE ANY AND ALL BRUTES.

It is time to tell these pretentious mechanicians to stand aside. Let them KEEP THEIR HANDS OFF OUR SCHOOLS AND SCHOOL CHILDREN AT LEAST. Our public schools were not founded to furnish clinical opportunities for sex mad fanatics.

Poetry For Today

THE AMERICAN FLAG.

When Freedom, from her mountain height,
Unfurled her standard to the air,
She tore the azure robe of night,
And set the stars of glory there;
She mingled with its gorgeous dies,
The milky baldric of the skies,
And striped its pure, celestial white
With streakings of the morning light
Then, from his mansion in the sun,
She called her eagle-bearer down,
And gave into his mightly hand
The symbol of her chosen band!

Flag of the free heart's hope and home,
By angel hands to valor given,
Thy stars have lit the welkin dome,
And all thy hues were born in heaven.
Forever float that standard sheet!
Where breathes the foe but falls before us,
With Freedom's soil beneath our feet,
And Freedom's banner streaming o'er us.

WOULD PREVENT DEATH OF BABES

By Associated Press.

Washington, D. C., April 23.—Mrs. Frederick Schoff, of Philadelphia, president of the National Congress of Mothers and Parent-Teacher Associations, wso presented her annual report before the second session of the Third International Congress of the Welfare of the Child here today, said the lives of 100,000 babies would be saved during the coming year if the Congress of Mothers was able to carry out the practical measures it had started for "baby saving."

"By actual experiment," she said, "the Congress has proved that education of mothers in infant hygiene will prevent sixty per cent of infant mortality.

"The National Congress of Mothers has asked every parent teacher association to have a Child Hygiene Committee which will visit every mother of a baby under two years in that locality and invite her to come regularly to have a record kept of her baby's progress, and to study how best to promote health.

"The United States Public Health Service has prepared a valuable bulletin on the care of the baby, available for every mother. State Boards of Health have prepared valuable buletins, City Health Boards have done the same.

"With the active health of a child hygiene committee in every mothers' circle or parent teacher association, it becomes possible to establish the connecting link between the mothers who need the knowledge of infant hygiene and the health service which private, state and national agencies are so eager to give to every mother."

H. M. S. PINAFORE!
TO-NIGHT AT THE HIGH SCHOOL AUDITORIUM

LARGE CROWD IS DELIGHTED WITH PINAFORE PRODUCTION

Remarkably Clever Work of High School Students in Presentation of Famous Opera Last Night Wins the Plaudits of Pleased Auditors—Stage Settings and Costumes Add Greatly to Success of Entertainment—Will Be Repeated Tonight at High School Auditorium.

The High School Glee clubs under the direction of Miss Elizabeth Sheen, supervisor of music in the schools, scored a tremendous success in their first presentation of Gilbert and Sullivan's famous comic opera, "H M. S. Pinafore", Thursday night. An opera which has run the gamut of popular favor as has "Pinafore" revived as it now is in New York's theatrical world by an all-star cast, and which plays to crowded houses, after a run of half a century, has unusual claim to merit in its attractions.

It is an opera of tuneful, catchy songs, of pretty girls and happy-go-lucky sailors, of exciting plot and thrilling situations and so stirring in action that there isn't a slow moment.

For amateurs to put on an opera of the character of "Pinafore" with the success of last night, was remarkable and gives to Miss Sheen unquestioned prestige as a director, and unstinted praise to the cast and the assisting members of the clubs.

It's decidedly difficult staging, excellent make-ups and costuming, splendidly trained choruses and both individual and ensemble work in carrying out roles assigned, stamped it an amateur production quite out of the ordinary and all the more surprising when the youth of the performers and their short time of training is considered.

The curtain rose upon the quarter-deck of H. M. S. Pinafore, with a view of Portsmouth in the distance and the sailors singing while they worked on deck.

The basic action was built upon the love of a sailor for the captain's daughter, who is also wooed by the Rt. Hon. Sir Joseph Porter, K. C. B., First Lord of the Admiralty.

The cast of parts was admirable and assisting the several stars was a chorus of sailors, marines, midshipmen and Sir Joseph Porter's oft recurring "sisters and his cousins and his aunts", making up an ensemble of forty-three voices to delight the audience with their spirited rendering of the famous Pinafore melodies.

Besides being well put on the opera brought to light latent talent in both musical and dramatic roles.

Following the introduction and opening chorus the entrance of "Little Buttercup", singing one of the catchiest songs of the opera, "I'm Called Little Buttercup", brought before the audience a promising young prima donna in Miss Ruth Parrett.

Throughout the performance, Miss Parrett sang her role with lilting melody and an easy presence as if to the manner born. As pretty and captivating a "Little Buttercup" as ever played the part, Miss Parrett surprised the audience by the very beautiful quality of her soprano voice, exceptionally smooth and round for so young a girl. It is a voice, rich in promise. "Buttercup" was recalled again and again by the audience.

Miss Ada Woodward was charming and graceful as "Josephine", the captain's daughter. It was an exceedingly difficult role for a young girl, the sustained high tones making heavy demands upon the voice, and Miss Woodward rose to the part admirably, her work especially good in the second act. The "Bell Trio" by Josephine, Sir Joseph and Capt. Corcoran, brought forth one of the most enthusiastic encores of the evening. Miss Woodward's voice is a high soprano, clear and sweet.

Paul Craig took the part of dashing Capt. Corcoran, commanding H. M. S. Pinafore, with truly professional ease and his decidedly clever acting and good singing was a marked feature of the opera.

The role of Sir Joseph Porter was splendidly taken by Robert Craig. His pompous manner and magnificent admiral's uniform made him an imposing First Lord of the Admiralty, and the crowd of admiring feminine relatives who accompanied him contributed generously to the humor of the opera.

Emerson Chapman, the handsome sailor lover, appeared to advantage in a number of solos and duets, and Herbert Davenport and Wm. Evans were very good as the boatswain and the boatswain's mate.

"Dick Deadeye," the eccentric comedian of the opera, was capitally done by Howard Gray. His antics, make-up and songs brought forth continuous laughter and applause.

Urcel Porter, as "Hebe" was an exceedingly pretty "first cousin" to the lucky Sir Joseph.

In addition to the personale of the opera there were:

Geraldine Coffman, Carrie Willis, Mildred Kidd, Martha Teeters, Margaret Mark, Lora Ellen Tharp, Emily Palmer, Helen Hays, First Lord's sisters; Wilma Hammer, Sennath Kellough, Jean Fitzgerald, Winona DeWitt, Marguerite Wilson, Doris McFadden, his cousins; Dorothy Saxton, Bernice Ford, Ethel Spray, Dorothy Fullerton, Naomi Rowan, Jeanette Weaver, his aunts; Sherman Brownell, Albert Briggs, Ervin Bailey, Roscoe Duff, Donald Moore, Howard Gregg, Robert McFadden, Wardus Collopy, Edwards Hopkins, Charles Thompson, Frank Colopy, Robt. Rothrock, sailors and midshipmen; Hubert Murray, James Cook, marines.

Throughout the opera Miss Lillian Davis did brilliant work as the pianist, contributing largely to the success of the performance.

Miss Sheen personally directed as stage manager and was ably assisted in the matter of stage settings and costuming by P. S. Craig. Miss Bess Cleaveland had proved her versatility as an artist by the painting of a scenic background, an effective feature of the stage settings.

The fact that the score book of the opera had been stolen made its puting on very much more difficult, and too much praise cannot be given to the way Miss Sheen rose to the occasion and to her exceptional ability in conducting the opera without the usual manager's assistance.

S. E. Irvin had the construction work under supervision and W. C. Adams, the effective electrical effects.

A large audience filled the auditorium and encored with unusual enthusiasm from the opening number to the brilliant closing chorus.

It is expected that the High school auditorium will be crowded tonight for the second performance.

ORVILLE STOOKEY AGAIN IN TROUBLE

Orville Stookey, the 18-year-old youth who finds it difficult to stay out of trouble, and who was recently released from the work house where he had been sent for stealing a robe, is again in trouble.

Stookey was arrested and taken before Mayor Coffey, Friday morning, charged with obtaining money under false pretense, having secured $2 from a colored woman after representing that he was collecting for a man whom she is alleged to have owed.

Mayor Coffey, after lecturing the offender, gave him until Saturday night to return the $2, or stand trial with a view to landing in the work house.

After being called down a number of times for cursing while before Mayor Coffey, and protesting against having to obtain the money and repay it, he promised to secure the amount and pay it into the hands of Mayor Coffey to be returned to the woman.

The authorities have grown weary of giving Stookey a chance, and expect to place him in some institution for an indefinite period unless he mends his ways in a hurry.

LARGE CROWD ATTENDS FUNERAL

An impressive service was conducted by Rev. George Creamer, of the M. E. church of Good Hope. Favorite hymns were sung and many beautiful flowers offered tribute.

Acting as pall-bearers were six nephews and cousins, Kelly Rodgers, Alden, Mich.; Ernest and Robert Rodgers, Charles, Harry and Tom Dixon, and Messrs. C. W. Mark and J. B. Mark.

A long line of carriages filled with relatives and friends accompanied the family to Good Hope for the burial in the Good Hope cemtery.

PRACTICE AGAINST THE HUMANE LAWS

A youth said to be a son of Carey Short, well known horseman of near Circleville, was apprehended by Deputy Sheriff Nelson and the president of the Humane society Friday afternoon, for fastening the halters of two horses to the tails of two other horses in order to lead the animals.

When the youth's father was notified of the detention of his son, he immediately notified the young man to use the halters in leading the animals, and stated that he would later be up and pay the fine.

The method adopted by the young man is a violation of the humane laws of Ohio and will not be tolerated by the Humane society.

DISASTROUS FIRE SWEEPS VILLAGE OF PANCOASTBURG

R. L. Hutchinson General Store, and Isaac Mason Blacksmith Shop Totally Destroyed, While Hutchinson Residence and Aaron Kellar Residence are Badly Damaged in Early Morning Fire—Total Loss Will Exceed $6,000.

One of the worst fires that ever broke out in Pancoastburg, occurred early Friday morning, when a general store and blacksmith shop were burned to the ground, and two residences badly damaged, while a number of other buildings in the central part of the village were threatened until the fire brigade got the fire under control.

The fire started about 6:20 o'clock in the Isaac Mason blacksmith shop, and quickly spread to the R. L. Hutchinson general store, destroying both shop and store together with contents, and eating into the residences of Aaron Kellar and R. L. Hutchinson, badly damaging the houses and contents, and threatening several other residences.

The total loss is estimated at fully $6,000, with part insurance. Mr. Hutchinson is by far the heaviest loser, as his building and stock were lightly insured.

The alarm was quickly spread when the shop was found to be doomed, and a few minutes later bucket brigades had formed and were fighting hard to save the Hutchinson store, but their efforts were in vain, as the breeze carried the flames into the store and it was soon a mass of flames.

It was an exciting time in the little town for a half hour, and several residences were saved only by the most strenuous work on the part of the men and women who used the fire buckets.

The Kellar residence was much more badly damaged than the Hutchison home, and it will require considerable expense to repair the damage to both buildings. Most of the contents of the residences were removed to a place of safety before the fire was extinguished.

Burning embers fell among several of the buildings in the town, but the women and children joined the men and boys in extinguishing each brand as it fell, thus preventing virtually the entire building from being wiped out of existence.

Mr. Hutchinson will probably rebuild and re-open another store within a short time.

In Social Circles

Mr. and Mrs. Earl Barnett and Miss Myrtle McCoy entertained Thursday night with a brilliant six o'clock dinner, in compliment to Miss Agnes Monroe and Miss Martha McCulloch, of Muncie, and Miss Bess Radebaugh, of Lancaster.

It was a "Japanese dinner," most artistic and novel in its decorations. The centerpiece of the perfectly appointed table was a big basket of the Japanese yellow flowering curran and soft light streamed overhead from tiny Japanese lanterns enclosing the electric light bulbs. Similar tiny lanterns were used as candle shades.

The honor guests composed a very attractive trio, and Miss Monroe's beautiful piano renditions added greatly to the pleasure of the evening. Miss Monroe was wearing yellow crepe meteor. with garniture of pearls and lace.

Miss McCulloch's gown was an elaborate creation of pink taffeta, a puffed over-dress caught with rose buds and blue bows. Miss Radebaugh was pretty in a draped gown of pale blue crepe chiffon over charmeuse.

An elaborate luncheon was given at the Kerr home at one o'clock Friday, when the four loosers of the season's game in the Thursday Bridge club entertained the four winners.

Acting as hostesses were Mesdames W J. Galvin, Earl Barnett, W. D. Craig and Ray Maynard.

It was a four table luncheon, with white and yellow decorations carried out in lovely spring-time effect.

Spring flowers blossomed throughout the rooms and small gold baskets filled with white sweet peas and smilax, graced each table.

Cateress Woodson served a five-course luncheon embracing the season's delicacies.

The four club winners were Mesdames Willard Story, Garrie Spragg, Pearce Ballard and Roy Young. Seated with them were Mrs Elmer Stinson, of Montpelier, Ind.; Misses Monroe and McCulloch, of Muncie, Ind.; Miss Radebaugh, of Lancaster; Mesdames Clarence Baer, Frank C. Parrett, D. L. Thompson, Albert Glascock. Miss McCoy.

Closing the Browning club year, was a postponed meeting Wednesday night, the excellen program in charge of the Art deartment, Mrs. Arthur Burgett, chairman.

One of the most delightful papers of the entire year was that of Miss Haidee Van Winkle on "Pictures I Have Seen," a personal reminiscence of Miss Van Winkle's visits to art galleries while abroad.

Mrs. S. E Parrett contributed a very interesting paper on "From Quito, Ecuador, Down the Quito River," and Mrs. Loa Gregg an instructive one on "The Pottery of the American Indians."

Miss Florence Ogle brought up a back paper from the Household Economic department, treating the practical subject of 'Beds and Bed Rooms".

Two very pretty piano duets by Misses Helen McKee and Dorothy Bush, added to the program.

Miss Prudence Culhan was elected to associate membership.

Mrs. J. A. Worrell delightfully entertained the Friday Bridge club this afternoon.

"The wedding Tuesday evening of Miss Elizabeth Renick Weldon, daughter of Mrs. Richard Cowling Weldon, and Mr. Thomas David Harman, Jr., of Pittsburg, Pa., was one of widespread interest and distinctive charm.

It was a wedding not only of fashion, but one which has a tinge of romance. The bridegroom's father is a native of this county and when the son came back to the old home on a visit the wily little love god hovered near. The names of both families have stood in the social annals of Circleville and Pittsburg for many years Mr. T. D Harman, Sr., is one of the stockholders in the world-wide known National Stockman and his son is the advertising manager.

In choosing their attendants the bride selected her sister, Miss Adelaide Weldon. as maid of honor, and the bridegroom his brother, Mr. John Harman, as best man. The maid of honor and the bridesmaids were Miss Frances Harman, Miss Mary Story, Miss Mary Fullerton and Miss Lucile Weldon.

The church never opened its doors to a more winsome or beautiful bride. The simplicity of her wedding gown was a marked feature.

Miss Story and Miss Lucile Weldon wore green messaline with solid lace bodices. Miss Frances Harman yellow brocaded charmuese with lace and crystal trimmings and Miss Mary Fullerton, yellow messaline with a garniture of lace."—Circleville Daily Union Herald.

D. T. & I. DEPOT HAS A VISITOR

Deputy Fire Marshal, T. R. Bell, visited the D. T. & I. depot Friday morning, and carefully inspected the structure from top to bottom, and as a result of his visit it is more than probable that the structure, or a portion of it at least, may be condemned and the railroad ordered to make extensive repairs or rebuild the depot entirely.

Deputy Bell has been in this city for several days, inspecting quite a number of buildings which may be unsafe or fire traps, and the result of his visit may mean the issuing of orders for the removal of a number of old structures, or the radical repair of many.

His report will be made to the State Fire Marshal, who will then communicate his findings to Mayor Coffey, with instructions to see that the recommendations are carried out to the letter.

STRIKERS WILL ENGAGE MILITIA

CHAOS REIGNS AT TRINIDAD

Eight Great Coal Properties In Ruins In the Southern Colorado Fields. Forty-six Persons Dead and Many Wounded—Town of Rouse Reported Completely Surrounded by Enraged Strikers.

Trinidad, Colo., April 24.—One thousand strikers, who swept over the southern coal fields from Delagua to Rouse, leaving the smoking ruins of eight great coal properties in their wake and adding an additional score to the present death list of 25, are preparing for battle with the 300 militiamen being hurried into the war zone from Denver.

Ths town is in a furor of excitement. The fate of the district in effect hangs in the balance.

Camp fires gleam along the ridges and at Aguilar, the scene of the burning of the Empire mine property, 500 are gathered for what it is supposed will be the first concerted attack on the state troops. By virtue of the fighting the strikers hold possession of all the country between Ludlow, where 100 men and two machine guns under Major Hamrock are stationed, to the coal company plant at Rouse, 12 miles south of Walsenburg, to which fugitives from the burning camps taken by the strikers have fled.

At a late hour Rouse was reported to be completely surrounded, and 200 men who hold the camp with rifles and a machine gun, were preparing for an immediate attack. If Rouse falls, it is conceded that the camps of Lester, Cameron and Walsenburg will be abandoned. Property damage in excess of $1,000,000, it is estimated, has been done. The whole strike zone is in a state of terror. Should the troops fail in running the 18-mile gauntlet spread for their reception, murder, arson and pillage will follow, which may end only in the destruction of every mining property from Trinidad to Walsenburg. Even if the militia succeed, it is possible that the guerrilla warfare will exist for weeks.

John Lawson, international board member of the United Mine Workers of America, announced definitely that he would refuse to order the strikers to surrender their arms until they had been assured that they would receive fair treatment at the militia's hand. "There can be no peace without justice," he said.

The mines now known to be ablaze are the Primrose of the Colorado Fuel & Iron company; Mine No. 4 of the Southern Colorado Fuel company; the Empire and Southwestern mines of the Southwestern Fuel company; the Green Canon mine of the National Fuel comany, and the Rugby mine of the Colorado Fuel & Iron company. In addition the Royal and Broadhead mines, both operated by independent companies, are in ashes.

Union headquarters supplied the names of the three men kiled yesterday at the fight about the Empire property. The men were J. P. Gomez, Ben Vigil and Nick Schumich.

OHIO GUARDS EXPECT CALL

Officers Making Ready For Trip to Mexican Border.

Columbus, O., April 24.—"It is my honest opinion that every member of the Ohio National Guard will be in his uniform within 24 hours and ready to entrain for Mexico," declared Major David A. Lynch of the quartermaster's corps, roster clerk in the adjutant general's office.

Assistant Adjutant General E. M. Peoples, in the absence of Adjutant General Wood, said no orders to the Ohio guard have been received from Washington, but some were expected at any moment. All other guard officers expressed the opinion that the militia will be ordered to the front by Monday.

No time is being lost by guard officials in preparing for the journey to the Mexican border. Everything is being made ready so as to mobilize and entrain on the shortest possible time. Majors David A. Lynch and Arthur M. Reynolds of the commissary department prepared orders for rations. They computed the amount of foods needed to supply 6,000 to 14,000 rations. A ration is a soldier's subsistence for one day.

These orders were made up and will be held in readiness to send to supply houses to be filled immediately upon receipt of orders for mobilization.

Appeals for permission to be assigned to the first companies that may be sent to Mexico continue to pour in upon the adjutant general from former guard officers and men.

OHIO MINERS MAY STRIKE

Joint Committee Fails to Reach Agreement on Wage Scale.

Columbus, O., April 24.—Ohio soft coal operators and miners are still as far from agreement as they were when the mines closed April 1. A joint committee, consisting of three miners and three operators, talked over the situation, but failed absolutely to reach a wage agreement.

G. W. Savage, secretary-treasurer of the Ohio United Mine Workers, said that if the meeting adjourns without a settlement the miner delegates would vote for a statewide strike.

The miners insist that no settlement of the difficulty is in sight unless the operators agree to a wage contract based on the run-of-mine scale. The mine-run basis is fought by the eastern Ohio operators. Hocking valley operators are agreeable to a run-of-mine scale if the miners don't make the scale too high.

The run-of-mine law goes into effect May 20, but its constitutionality will be tested by the operators before that time.

REDFIELD DISCUSSES PROSPERITY

Chicago, Ills., April 23.—Secretary Redfield, of the Department of Commerce, made a prosperity speech here tonight before the Industrial Club. He took for his topic "A Sense of Proportion" and contended that any lessening of business activities at the present time was not peculiar to the United States alone; that a moderate and general decline of the cost of living has been noted all over the world and that the new tariff law had not brought the rush of foreign importations which was threatened. Mr. Redfield referred to the railroad rate situation and expressed the hope that the Interstate Commerce Commission's decision on the application of the Eastern railroads for freight rate advances would soon be decided.

"It is respectfully submitted for your consideration that the following statements are correct," said he.

"1. The adoption of the present fiscal policy of the nation has not been followed by the rush of foreign importations which was threatened.

"2. On the authority of experienced and unprejudiced observers of different nations there has been progressing for some months, and is now in progress, a moderate and quite general decline in prices to a lower level, a part of a movement of a similar character going on throughout the world.

"3. A general depression in business has long existed in many countries throughout the commercial world.

"The public has through press and platform these many years demanded a reduction in the cost of living. That reduction is now going on. Is it possible it should come without readjustments which however healthful are temporarily difficult? Are business booms born out of a falling market?

"If America is in despair I do not know it. There are difficulties here.

"Let us as we view the business situation neither minimize nor magnify it, neither localize it nor generalize it. Let us look at the facts as they are, not in their narrow and immediate and parochial significance. California is not in distress with her abounding crops. Kansas knows no weakness in the presence of her wheat. New York with nearly eighteen hundred milions in her savings banks alone faces no immediate necessity. We are free from the terrors of an inflexible currency. We are becoming free from those who mistakenly thought it would be long profitable to mopolize. We are readjusting ourselves upon an altered economic basis. Speculation is not rife. Our merchants are not overstocked. Our competing power was never as strong as now. Such dullness as there was, has been in part the bringer of a higher efficiency into our factories."

THINK WAR IS QUITE CERTAIN

Washington, D. C., April 24.—The United States and Mexico are actually at war was the declaration of Senator Borah.

Borah declared that the United States should immediately get out of Mexico. Senators Smoot and Borah criticized the way the Administration had handled the Mexican situation.

"Before another 48 hours is passed, in my judgment, we shall be at war with united Mexico," said Borah. "No one doubts what the forces of Huerta will do and no one can doubt what the forces of Carranza will do. In what I am saying I want it understood that I am not challenging anything that the President has said, but I believe that if the American flag ever goes up in Mexico, it will never come down."

Chicago, April 24.—An injunction restraining George H. 6000 MARINES HAVE LANDED

By Associated Press.

Vera Cruz, April 24.—The strength of the American forces on shore at Vera Cruz were estimated today at 6,000 men by Commander Charles Hughes, Chief of Staff of Rear Admiral Badger. They are accompanied by a full equipment of field guns and machine guns.

Although General Gustav Maas was reported to be assembling inland several thousand troops for an assault on the city, Commander Hughes said that the American forces in Vera Cruz was capable of repelling such an attack without using the ships' big guns which might cause damage to the city.

Flag officers from the American fleet boarded every liner today and looked over the manifest for arms and ammunition. They warned the commanders to land no supplies. No alarming reports were received from Tampico today, but an American squadron outside the breakwater was coaled and ready to proceed there at an hour's notice, if necessary.

$25 REWARD FOR FAKE SOLICITOR

A reward of $25 is offered for the arrest and conviction of J. S. Doyle, the man who recently worked this county, taking subscriptions to magazines at unheard of prices.

Doyle, it will be recalled by those whom he approached, posed as a deaf and dumb man, writing out all he had to communicate. His offers were so liberal and his alleged condition so conducive of sympathy that he did a large business and received a snug sum of money before departing.

One man in the county, who has made an investigation as to the man's work, has just received a letter from Everybody's Magazine, in which the writer states that J. S. Doyle is a fraud and that the magazine has been trying to locate him for a long time, and offers $25 reward for his capture and conviction.

It is stated that the man is not a mute, and that his sole purpose is to defraud.

This is another argument in favor of citizens not patronizing solicitors of whom they know nothing.

If the man again appears in this community his presence should be made known to the police at once.

HORSE SALE CONTINUES WITH LARGE ATTENDANCE

Some Extra Fine Animals Are Sold Yesterday and Today at Prices Reaching Into the Hundreds of Dollars—Interest Does Not Lag and Bidding Is Spirited—Sale Ends Tonight.

The night session of the horse sales tonight, marks the close of the biggest sale ever conducted by the Ohio Horse Sales Company in this city, and the sales have been unusually satisfactory to both buyer and seller, and the management is greatly pleased with the results.

At the close of the session Thursday night there remained about 100 head of animals to go under the hammer, and Friday morning Auctioneer John Peace started in to have the last animal sold before the day was over, and with the rapid bidding, the animals were disposed of at an unusually fast rate.

The highest priced horse sold yesterday was Peter Kyle, 2 year old trotter, by Peter the Great, from the Bacon consignment, purchased by Ed Allen, of Lexington, Ky., for $600.

Caduceus, the 2nd, from the McCann consignment, brought $400 and Estes Laconda, a 3-year-old trotter, from Baker consignment, $400. W. B. Allison, of Toledo, purchased the former and Frank Hedrick, of Xenia, the latter.

The green trotter, Searchmont, was sold by Judge McCann to J. T. Taylor, of Tiffin, for $400.

Dr. C. H. Yale, of Boston, Mass., paid $500 for Little Squires, record 2:16¼ from the Thos. Dwyer consignment.

George McCrea's pacer, Cheerful Walter, went to W. G. Rudy, Millersburg, O., for the sum of $345.

Celia M, a pacer, consigned by Harry Stokes, of Urbana, brought $350, J. W. Elliott, of Anderson, Ind., made the purchase.

R. T. Scott assisted in the selling at the night session, owing to the strenuous work of Col. Pease during the day sessions.

Several choice animals were included in the list sold Friday, and each animal brought a good price.

CAN GUARDS BE SENT OUT?

By Associated Press.

Washington, D. C., April 24.—Proceedings were begun in the Supreme Court today to determine whether the National Guard may be sent to Mexico or other territory outside the United States without first being mustered in as volunteers.

The proceedings are in the nature of an appeal from the action of Judge Day in the Federal Court of northern Ohio in dismissing an action of Lt. Col. Daniel Sterns against Adj. Gen. George Wood, of the Ohio National Guard, growing out of preparations for military movements outside the country.

A later report from Rouse says: "At 11:35 70 cavalrymen at full gallop have just passed Rouse with artillery." The two messages indicate that a second troop have detrained in Monson has executed a flank attack on the strikers which is said to have attacked the scouting party.

GIVES WILSON GREAT POWER IN WAR TIME

By Associated Press.

Washington, D. C., April 24.—The Senate today without debate passed the volunteer army bill as agreed to by the conference of the House and Senate. The bill was designed to cure defects in the existing law relating to volunteer forces and is relied upon to put those forces on a war-time footing, almost similar to the regular army. The volunteer army would be disbanded at the end of hostilities. The President would call for volunteers by proclamation, appoint the officers instead of governors of states and would have absolute authority to organize brigades regardless of state lines. The President is also given full authority for the organization of the coast defenses and all the "adjuncts that may be necessary in the prosecution of war."

Washington, D. C., April 24.—The House passed the volunteer army bill this afternoon and it now goes to the President.

NEED VESSELS TO MOVE MEN

The department said it would be necessary to charter merchant vessels for the movement of the troops; that the department was not in a position to complete arrangements for such ships, and that further authorization and further funds were needed through congressional action.

NOTED DOCTOR SPEAKS TO WOMEN

By Associated Press.

Washington, D. C., April 23.—"Twentieth Century Motherhood" was discussed by Dr. Helen C. Putnam, former president of the American Academy of Medicine of Providence, R. I., at the opening of the third session of the International Congress on the Welfare of the Child here tonight.

"New ideals are stirring mothers," she declared.

"That love and good intentions must be re-enforced with special knowledge is one, and they demand instruction in the care of their children.

"Another ideal arousing motherhood to greater efficiency is that man-made law dividing parental responsiblities must yield to biologic laws which punish the child and through it the race for mistakes of either parent regardless of sex. Neither may consent to blighting the child, whether by personal works or by social government.

"Along with duty to fit herself for her vocation and to discharge her community as well as her home responsibilities for the child, the new mother is coming to see that daughters, like sons, can be safe, strong and happiest only as they are educated to be self-supporting by wholesome labor.

"Home making must come into its own and be rated among specified occupations in the Census, with an economic valuation commanding respect."

EVERYBODY GOING TO SEE THE CIRCUS

Reports indicate that an enormous crowd will throng the city tomorrow to see the Hagenbeck-Wallace greater shows, which will unload in this city early tomorrow morning.

Not only will several thousand persons be here from out of the city, but Washington citizens will also enjoy the big free parade and later witness the great variety of entertainment under the big "white top".

It will be one of the largest circus crowds in recent years, if present indications are realized.

Two performances will be given by the circus, one in the afternoon and the other at night, and the superior nature of the Hagenbeck-Wallace show is too widely known to require further praise.

REFUGEES FROM MEXICO CITY DESCRIBE DANGERS AFTER U. S. TOOK VERA CRUZ

Mobs Formed at Once in the Streets and Old Glory Was Trampled Under Foot—Foreigners Rushed to the Previously Arranged Meeting Places—Windows Shattered by Mobs—All Americans Threatened With Assassination. Position of Americans in Mexico City Regarded as Serious.

By Associated Press.

Mexico City, via refugee train to Vera Cruz, April 24—Mobs in the streets in Mexico City were trampling under foot the stars and stripes and were threatening American pedestrians when the refugee train engaged under the auspices of the German and British Legations left for Vera Cruz, carrying some 500 fugitives of various nationalities.

The position of those American citizens left in the Federal Capital was regarded as serious. Nelson O'Shaughnessy, in charge of the Embassy at Mexico City, Lt. Rowan, of the Navy and Captain Wm. A. Burnside of the army, were to leave on Thursday night for Manzanillo, on the Pacific coast, under special arrangements with Provisional President Huerta.

Immediately after the news of the landing of American bluejackets and marines at Vera Cruz was made known in the Federal Capital by extra editions of the local newspapers crowds of students and government office employees began to gather. By dusk a mob had assembled in front of the American Club, where they smashed windows and howled insults and threats at the American citizens inside, all of whom they threatened to assassinate.

An appeal to the Governor of the Federal District brought police protection, but not before the crowd had shattered many of the windows in the Club House and in adjoining American properties.

At 2 o'clock in the morning bands of excited Mexicans marched through the streets singing the Mexican national anthem and shouting, "death to the Americans." An American jewelry store was looted by mob at mid-night. The police look on without taking any action. The American Club, the leading American hostelry, and the offices of the Mexican Herald were closed owing to threats of the mob.

The British, German and French in the Federal Capital were prepared at a moment's notice to gather in the previously arranged concentration district, which had been provisioned to stand a siege. The newspapers, probably acting under directions of General Huerta, issued many extra editions in which they printed dispatches stating THAT EL PASO, LAREDO, NOGALES AND OTHER PLACES HAD BEEN TAKEN BY THE MEXICANS.

Other dispatches announced that the Federal troops had gained a great victory at Vera Cruz where they expected to surround and drive the American invaders into the sea.

The papers also declared that the battleship Louisiana had been sunk by a Mexican torpedo. An alleged dispatch from the south said that Rebel Zapata was coming to join forces with General Huerta.

The Future Depends On Gen. Huerta

Americans strengthening their positions.

Ball Begins if Huerta declares war.

Have lost track of O'Shaughnessy again.

Troops have strangle hold of Vera Cruz.

By Associated Pess.

Washington, D. C., April 24.—President Wilson and his war staff today proceeded with their plans for operations in Mexico with business-like expedition. The day found every available American war ship plowing southward for the Mexican coast on the Atlantic and Pacific, and a full brigade of the First Army division shipping in transports from Galveston for Vera Cruz.

This army force would place more than 10,000 American troops in the Mexican seaport to hold the city, or begin offensive operations toward Mexico City with Vera Cruz as a base. No plans for further aggressive movements about Vera Cruz were made today.

The President said that for the present no general campaign outside of Vera Cruz was planned and that no further campaign would be begun unless General Huerta declared war or sought reprisal for the seizure of the city.

Meantime reports from Rear Admiral Badger in Vera Cruz said that the city was comparatively quiet and that bands from the American fleet gave concerts on the streets, where a few hours before the rattle of rifle shots had heralded disaster. By tomorrow Admiral Badger will have 6500 marines and bluejackets ashore at Vera Cruz, sufficient, he says to repulse any effort that may be made by Mexican forces under General Maas now at Soledad, 30 miles away, to regain possession of the city.

The whereabouts of Nelson O'Shaughnessy, who last night informed the State department that he was leaving Mexico City with his passports, is now a matter of some speculation. He had announced his intention of going to Vera Cruz by railroad, but private dispatches today reported him on his way to Manzanillo on the Pacific coast.

Secretary Daniels of the Navy said that no attack on American forces by Constitutionalists in northern Mexico was feared.

The point is raised that it is necessary to know where to look for indemnifications for losses which may be sustained through events accruing in Mexico. It is claimed that if war formally is declared, or if a blockade is proclaimed by the U. S. ship owners having fair notice will start cargoes for the blockaded ports only at their own risk and peril; but in the absence of such declaration or proclamation it is claimed shippers have a legal right to expect cargoes shall not be seized or detained, and it is expected some pressure will be brought to bear upon the State department to clear up the situation.

Vera Cruz, April 24.—American marines and bluejackets control today a radius of at least five miles around the city of Vera Cruz, in which normal conditions had been virtually restored. Outposts were pushed further out in a southerly direction to the water supply station at Tejar and marines and sailors were dispatched there on a train to obtain control of all pipe lines into the city. Rear Admiral Badger now commands approaches to the city. Within the city sniping had almost ceased this morning. A close watch was kept all night for sharpshooters by patrols. Orders have been issued that all civilians keep within their residences after 7:30 p. m. and these were strictly obeyed. Some 3000 Americans, mostly women and children left for Galveston on board the Esperanza, and arrangements have been made for removing from the coast towns all Americans who can be induced to leave. More than 1000 Americans are reported to have left Tampico, where they were given most urgent advice that they had better make their departure.

REPORT DENIED

Washington, D. C., April 24.—Diplomatic officials here today denied reports that Thomas B. Harper, Charge of the British Embassy at Mexico City, had been sent to confer with Admiral Fletcher at Vera Cruz with a view to opening diplomatic negotiations for a solution of the Mexican difficulty.

BIG MARKET FOR WEAPONS

By Associated Press.

Washington, D. C., April 24.—Fear of Texans along the Mexican border that the Constitutionalist forces might invade the border towns, caused a flood of telegrams received by Representative Garner of Texas, who immediately conferred with the War department. Garner told the War department authorities that there were 30,000 to 40,000 people standing in line in Texas towns awaiting an opportunity to buy guns.

State Department Not Concerned In Embargo Revival

Washington, D. C., April 24.—"Hold all shipments of arms until further notice." The Treasury Department today sent this order to collectors of customs to assist the War Department in its efforts to enforce the embargo. The embargo in force today against arms and ammunition along the Mexican border was a military measure taken by the War Department. It was declared as a part of the operations of the army and navy and no action by the State Department was involved.

By this means the technical re-establishment of the legal embargo, which, it was thought, might embarrass the administration in its attitude toward the Constitutionalists in northern Mexico, was avoided. The embargo will be enforced by the entire military organization on the border and under military orders to customs authorities.

THINGS LOOK QUITE ROSY

By Associated Press.

Washington, D. C., April 24.—Members of the cabinet after a two-hour session at the White House evince an optimistic spirit as to the Mexican situation. It was stated that no further offensive operations in Mexico had been decided on. The cabinet devoted much of its time to the consideration of the Colorado strike situation and departmental affairs.

ARE WE AT WAR OR ARE WE NOT?

By Associated Press.

Washington, D. C., April 24.—Symptoms of uneasiness over the present indefinite status of the relations between Mexico and the United States are beginning to manifest themselves in diplomatic circles and it is expected that the attention of the State department will be called to the advisability of issuing a statement to make it clear whether or not a state of war actually exists. Some diplomatic representatives here have been in receipt of inquiries from their own government on this point.

COLQUITT WILL DEFEND TEXAS

By Associated Press.

Austin, Texas, April 24.—An entire regiment of the Texas National Guard was today ordered to mobolize at Brownsville for border patrol duty. Governor Colquitt will order the other two regiments to the border unless a request to Secretary of War Garrison for additional troops for Texas border patrol duty is granted.

PLAN SUITS U. S.

By Associated Press.

Washington, D. C., April 24.—Cooperation in Mexican border patrol operations it was made known here today will be welcomed by the War department, providing there can be arranged a division of territory to be assigned to state or federal forces in a manner that will avoid any conflict of authority. If Governor Colquitt's state troops can be placed in exclusive charge of certain designated portions of the border, the War department, it is said, would gladly accept the aid of the state forces.

TROOPS ON THE MOVE

Brigade Ordered to Vera Cruz, Others to Border.

FORERUNNER OF OTHER ORDERS

Major General Wood, Who Has Been Designated to Lead the Army Campaign in Mexico, Will Soon Be On His Way to the Front—Steps Taken by the Department to Meet Situation Created by General Carranza and the Constitutionalists—Latest Developments.

Washington, April 24.—The latest developments in the Mexican situation are: A brigade of infantry at Galveston was ordered to leave immediately for Vera Cruz; additional troops were ordered to Texas for service on the border; orders were issued from the war department restoring the embargo on all shipments of arms across the Mexican border.

The troop movements are the first ordered in the present Mexican crisis. They are merely the forerunners of other orders, which will follow in quick succession. Within the next few days more troops will undoubtedly be following the 4,500 infantrymen now ordered to Vera Cruz, and Major General Leonard Wood, who has been designated to lead the army campaign in Mexico, probably will be on his way to the front.

While this movement of troops is designed to reinforce and fortify the forces already thrown against Huerta and his followers, the orders which went forth from the war department relate more immediately to Carranza and the Constitutionalists. The renewal of the embargo on arms and ammunition will be a blow to the rebels in the northern part of Mexico, while the movement of new troops into Texas is designed directly to protect Americans against outbreaks along the border.

Every indication now points to the fact that there will soon be a call for volunteers. Steps were taken by President Wilson to hurry action on the volunteer army bill now pending in congress, and information was conveyed to members of the senate that the president probably will issue a call within the next few days for 50,000 volunteers. It was represented to members of the senate that this call would be followed by others up to a maximum of 250,000 men. The plans of the joint army and navy board in the event of actual war contemplate a call for as many as 400,000 volunteers.

REQUESTS 400,000 SOLDIERS

Washington, April 24.—The war department has recommended to President Wilson that he ask congress for authority to call for 400,000 volunteers to deal with the Mexican situation. The department fears international complications involving Japan, and at the same time is impressed with the extremity of conditions in Mexico since Carranza has apparently taken a hostile attitude.

The Fifth brigade, Funston commanding, is now on board transports at Galveston, ready to move to Vera Cruz, and a provisional brigade of cavalry, engineers, sappers, etc., is preparing to embark.

Reports of the impending resignation of Secretary Bryan were renewed, and it is also stated that Secretary Daniels is to retire.

SEIZE REBEL AMMUNITION

El Paso, Tex., April 24.—Mayor Kelly had a conference with all ammunition dealers and asked that they refuse to sell arms or ammunition to Mexicans. All agreed. Americans bought rifles, shotguns and ammunition all day. United States troops seized 279,000 rounds of ammunition. The ammunition had been stored in El Paso by the Mexican rebels and the seizure was made by the military authorities on telegrams from Washington.

FIFTEEN KILLED MANY WOUNDED

Result of the Fighting In the City of Vera Cruz.

ADMIRAL BADGER FILES REPORT

American Force Now Ashore Totals More Than Five Thousand Men, but Desultory Firing Continues. Admiral Fletcher Making Every Effort to Induce City Authorities to Resume Their Duties.

Washington, April 24.—Three dead and 23 wounded were the reports of the fighting in Vera Cruz yesterday. This makes 15 Americans who have been killed and 53 wounded in the three days of fighting. The navy department gave out this bulletin:

"Admiral Badger wires that he landed a battalion from the Minnesota, Michigan and South Carolina, and that the landing force now ashore totals 5,400 men. The Minnesota, Chester, Prairie and San Francisco are lying in the inner harbor. Admiral Badger reports that as a result of desultory firing which continued about the city three more American sailors were killed and about 25 wounded. The landing party now occupies all the city, and outposts have been stationed on the sand hills in the rear, who have been engaged in constructing defensive works. Admiral Fletcher, who is in command on shore, is making every effort to induce Mexican municipal authorities to resume their duties and take up the administration of the city. He reports negotiations fairly successful so far. All work in the city is still stopped and no business is being transacted. The public service utilities have stopped because the employes refuse to run the eventual risk to themselves of resuming employment.

"Very little food supply has been coming into the city and it is thought that if in a few days the question of feeding the people of the city will become paramount, that it is possible the United States will be called upon to furnish food. The water supply is also causing some anxiety. The Mexican forces are disposed along the railroad line, and while Admiral Badger reports the rumor that they are preparing to attack, he adds that it is doubted that this is true, and expresses his belief that any attack can be successfully resisted."

EL PASO ATTACK AGAIN RUMORED

New York, April 24.—Rumors that emanated from a source that could not be questioned reached New York that President Wilson had sent a message direct to General Carranza informing him that our armed forces can not now evacuate Vera Cruz, but assuring him that if he goes ahead with his campaign this government will evacuate Vera Cruz as soon as he arrives in Mexico City with his forces. From the same source there also came a rumor that General Villa was outside Juarez with 5,000 men waiting for orders to attack El Paso, across the river.

VILLA BALKS?

El Paso, Tex., April 24. — General Francisco Villa, head of the rebel military forces, informed George C. Carothers, special agent of the state department, that he will decline to be dragged into a war with the United States by anybody.

REFUGEES SCURRY

Washington, April 24. — The navy department gave out the following today: "Admiral Fletcher wired from Vera Cruz at 9:20 Thursday night announcing the safe arrival of a refugee train from Mexico city, which carried 50 English, 150 Americans, 300 Mexicans and 75 Germans."

OFFERS PROTECTION TO ALL FOREIGNERS

Chihuahua, April 24.—Venustiano Carranza, "first chief of the Constitutionalists," declared that in case of war with the United States he will give full protection to all Americans in Constitutionalist territory until they arrive safely at the border. He will furnish them trains. In answer to a question he said: "I can not tell you what further action I will take if the United States does not withdraw its troops from Vera Cruz, for I will guide my future acts by the answer the American government gives to my message."

What It May Mean

Rudely awakening the United States from a dream of peaceful adjustment of Mexican difficulties, came the news Tuesday night that American blood had been shed.

The averting of that calamitous development, which President Wilson and the great majority of the people have been anxiously fearing, seemed no longer possible.

The United States had demanded, to close the incident at Tampico, only that form of atonement which is universally recognized, the salute of the flag of an offended nation.

President Wilson is most adverse to plunging the nation into war, but the American flag must stand for American honor, for American protection and power, no matter what the cost.

If the present procedure of the administration, that of reprisal, has the effect of sooner or later, bringing the Mexicans to the point of saluting the flag in atonement for the indignities heaped upon this government, the gratitude of both nations will be due to the President and his policy.

But American rights, American interests, American citizenship must be protected, even at the terrible toll of war.

The Uniied States is not looking for aggrandizement, but if the acts of reprisal, made imperative by the impudence of Huerta's refusal to meet a nation's just demands, and the inhumanity of his government cannot be compelled in any other way, for the second time the United States might be forced to engage in war with Mexico.

The arrival of Badger's squadron, the seizing of the custom house by marines and blue-jackets, the shelling of Mexicans out of their position, the subsequent acts of antagonism can be construed in no other way.

To the civilized world, with its knowledge of what war with a semi-barbaric nation would mean, the possibilities of such a war is absolutely sickening.

A country of half Indians, not far removed from savagery, the horrors of half civilized warfare would be added to fatalities and manifold miseries. The Mexicans are reckless fighters, although lacking military tactics, generalship and systematic methods of warfare.

There would be little hope that a march from Verá Cruz or the Rio Grande to the city of Mexico would not be marked by a trail of blood.

To engage in war with Mexico might prove a task of months, possibly of years, of great expenditure, even vast loss of life; or it might mean speedy victory, giving little opportunity for glory, but welcome indeed to the peace loving spirit of the American people.

It is in the hope that the present acts of reprisal will not lead to the horrors of war that, while the United States government holds the custom house at Vera Cruz, the same government issues a proclamation that the city authorities are to continue managing the city government.

That the demands of patriotism would be fully met by the United States as a unit was verified when the news that American blood had been shed was flashed over the wires.

Like a tremendous wave, patriotism engulfed our country and thousands are waiting to offer their services to their beloved country. If only shot and shell and the sacrifice of young manhood can bring order out of the present shaos, America's stalwart sons are waiting to prove their loyalty with their lives.

Hope still exists, terrified as it is by present conditions, that on the very brink of war as the United States stands this sacrifice of American patriotism will be averted without loss of honor.

Public Schools Not Founded to Furnish Clinics For Sex Mad Fanatics

By Bishop WARREN A. CANDLER of Methodist Episcopal Church South

A LONG process of reformers (so called) have sought to bring to pass all sorts of machine made "millenniums." If they deal with the social evil they proceed on the notion that purity is only possible to those who are above want or have good wages. They are never deeply concerned to work on the souls of men and women, but they are absorbed in trying to improve surroundings. THEY HAVE MORE FAITH IN THE POWER OF ENVIRONMENT THAN IN THE STRENGTH OF CONSCIENCE. They have done much to lead multitudes of men and women to wait for something to be done for them rather than by them before undertaking to live virtuously.

NOW OUR REFORMERS, WHO HAVE BEEN GIVING SUCH ATTENTION TO ENVIRONMENT FOR MANY YEARS AND WHO HAVE FAILED, TURN TO A VAIN ATTEMPT TO REGULATE HEREDITY. HENCE THIS HUGE SCHEME OF EUGENICS, WHICH IS, INDEED, A TRAGIC BLUNDERING WITH SACRED THINGS. ALREADY IT HAS YIELDED A CORRUPTING BULK OF SALACIOUS TALK ABOUT SEX HYGIENE AND SEX INSTRUCTION IN THE PUBLIC SCHOOLS. THE WHOLE DISGUSTING MOVEMENT RESTS ON THE ASSUMPTION OF MAN'S SAMENESS WITH THE BRUTES. IT LEAVES ENTIRELY OUT OF THE ACCOUNT MAN'S FREEDOM OF WILL, WHICH DIVINE CHARACTERISTIC LIFTS HIM INFINITELY ABOVE ANY AND ALL BRUTES.

It is time to tell these pretentious mechanicians to stand aside. Let them KEEP THEIR HANDS OFF OUR SCHOOLS AND SCHOOL CHILDREN AT LEAST. Our public schools were not founded to furnish clinical opportunities for sex mad fanatics.

Poetry For Today

THE AMERICAN FLAG.

When Freedom, from her mountain height,
Unfurled her standard to the air,
She tore the azure robe of night,
And set the stars of glory there;
She mingled with its gorgeous dies,
The milky baldric of the skies,
And striped its pure, celestial white
With streakings of the morning light
Then, from his mansion in the sun,
She called her eagle-bearer down,
And gave into his mightly hand
The symbol of her chosen band!

Flag of the free heart's hope and home,
By angel hands to valor given,
Thy stars have lit the welkin dome,
And all thy hues were born in heaven.
Forever float that standard sheet!
Where breathes the foe but falls before us,
With Freedom's soil beneath our feet,
And Freedom's banner streaming o'er us.

WOULD PREVENT DEATH OF BABES

By Associated Press.

Washington, D. C., April 23.—Mrs. Frederick Schoff, of Philadelphia, president of the National Congress of Mothers and Parent-Teacher Associations, wso presented her annual report before the second session of the Third International Congress of the Welfare of the Child here today, said the lives of 100,000 babies would be saved during the coming year if the Congress of Mothers was able to carry out the practical measures it had started for "baby saving."

"By actual experiment," she said, "the Congress has proved that education of mothers in infant hygiene will prevent sixty per cent of infant mortality.

"The National Congress of Mothers has asked every parent teacher association to have a Child Hygiene Committee which will visit every mother of a baby under two years in that locality and invite her to come regularly to have a record kept of her baby's progress, and to study how best to promote health.

"The United States Public Health Service has prepared a valuable bulletin on the care of the baby, available for every mother. State Boards of Health have prepared valuable buletins, City Health Boards have done the same.

"With the active health of a child hygiene committee in every mothers' circle or parent teacher association, it becomes possible to establish the connecting link between the mothers who need the knowledge of infant hygiene and the health service which private, state and national agencies are so eager to give to every mother."

H. M. S. PINAFORE!
TO-NIGHT AT THE HIGH SCHOOL AUDITORIUM

LARGE CROWD IS DELIGHTED WITH PINAFORE PRODUCTION

Remarkably Clever Work of High School Students in Presentation of Famous Opera Last Night Wins the Plaudits of Pleased Auditors—Stage Settings and Costumes Add Greatly to Success of Entertainment—Will Be Repeated Tonight at High School Auditorium.

The High School Glee clubs under the direction of Miss Elizabeth Sheen, supervisor of music in the schools, scored a tremendous success in their first presentation of Gilbert and Sullivan's famous comic opera, "H. M. S. Pinafore", Thursday night. An opera which has run the gamut of popular favor as has "Pinafore" revived as it now is in New York's theatrical world by an all-star cast, and which plays to crowded houses, after a run of half a century, has unusual claim to merit in its attractions.

It is an opera of tuneful, catchy songs, of pretty girls and happy-go-lucky sailors, of exciting plot and thrilling situations and so stirring in action that there isn't a slow moment.

For amateurs to put on an opera of the character of "Pinafore" with the success of last night, was remarkable and gives to Miss Sheen unquestioned prestige as a director, and unstinted praise to the cast and the assisting members of the clubs.

It's decidedly difficult staging, excellent make-ups and costuming, splendidly trained choruses and both individual and ensemble work in carrying out roles assigned, stamped it an amateur production quite out of the ordinary and all the more surprising when the youth of the performers and their short time of training is considered.

The curtain rose upon the quarter-deck of H. M. S. Pinafore, with a view of Portsmouth in the distance and the sailors singing while they worked on deck.

The basic action was built upon the love of a sailor for the captain's daughter, who is also wooed by the Rt. Hon. Sir Joseph Porter, K. C. B., First Lord of the Admiralty.

The cast of parts was admirable and assisting the several stars was a chorus of sailors, marines, midshipmen and Sir Joseph Porter's oft recurring "sisters and his cousins and his aunts", making up an ensemble of forty-three voices to delight the audience with their spirited rendering of the famous Pinafore melodies.

Besides being well put on the opera brought to light latent talent in both musical and dramatic roles

Following the introduction and opening chorus the entrance of "Little Buttercup", singing one of the catchiest songs of the opera, "I'm Called Little Buttercup", brought before the audience a promising young prima donna in Miss Ruth Parrett.

Throughout the performance, Miss Parrett sang her role with lilting melody and an easy presence as if to the manner born. As pretty and captivating a "Little Buttercup" as ever played the part, Miss Parrett surprised the audience by the very beautiful quality of her soprano voice, exceptionally smooth and round for so young a girl. It is a voice, rich in promise. "Buttercup" was recalled again and again by the audience.

Miss Ada Woodward was charming and graceful as "Josephine", the captain's daughter. It was an exceedingly difficult role for a young girl, the sustained high tones making heavy demands upon the voice, and Miss Woodward rose to the part admirably, her work especially good in the second act. The "Bell Trio" by Josephine, Sir Joseph and Capt. Corcoran, brought forth one of the most enthusiastic encores of the evening. Miss Woodward's voice is a high soprano, clear and sweet.

Paul Craig took the part of dashing Capt. Corcoran, commanding H. M. S. Pinafore, with truly professional ease and his decidedly clever acting and good singing was a marked feature of the opera.

The role of Sir Joseph Porter was splendidly taken by Robert Craig. His pompous manner and magnificent admiral's uniform made him an imposing First Lord of the Admiralty, and the crowd of admiring feminine relatives who accompanied him contributed generously to the humor of the opera.

Emerson Chapman, the handsome sailor lover, appeared to advantage in a number of solos and duets, and Herbert Davenport and Wm. Evans were very good as the boatswain and the boatswain's mate.

"Dick Deadeye," the eccentric comedian of the opera, was capitally done by Howard Gray. His antics, make-up and songs brought forth continuous laughter and applause.

Urcel Porter, as "Hebe" was an exceedingly pretty "first cousin" to the lucky Sir Joseph.

In addition to the personale of the opera there were:

Geraldine Coffman, Carrie Willis, Mildred Kidd, Martha Teeters, Margaret Mark, Lora Ellen Tharp, Emily Palmer, Helen Hays, First Lord's sisters; Wilma Hammer, Sennath Kellough, Jean Fitzgerald, Winona DeWitt, Marguerite Wilson, Doris McFadden, his cousins; Dorothy Saxton, Bernice Ford, Ethel Spray, Dorothy Fullerton, Naomi Rowan, Jeanette Weaver, his aunts; Sherman Brownell, Albert Briggs, Ervin Bailey, Roscoe Duff, Donald Moore, Howard Gregg, Robert McFadden, Wardus Collopy, Edwards Hopkins, Charles Thompson, Frank Colopy, Robt. Rothrock, sailors and midshipmen; Hubert Murray, James Cook, marines

Throughout the opera Miss Lillian Davis did brilliant work as the pianist, contributing largely to the success of the performance.

Miss Sheen personally directed as stage manager and was ably assisted in the matter of stage settings and costuming by P. S. Craig. Miss Bess Cleaveland had proved her versatility as an artist by the painting of a scenic background, an effective feature of the stage settings.

The fact that the score book of the opera had been stolen made its putting on very much more difficult, and too much praise cannot be given to the way Miss Sheen rose to the occasion and to her exceptional ability in conducting the opera without the usual manager's assistance

S. E. Irvin had the construction work under supervision and W. C. Adams, the effective electrical effects.

A large audience filled the auditorium and encored with unusual enthusiasm from the opening number to the brilliant closing chorus.

It is expected that the High school auditorium will be crowded tonight for the second performance.

DISASTROUS FIRE SWEEPS VILLAGE OF PANCOASTBURG

R. L. Hutchinson General Store, and Isaac Mason Blacksmith Shop Totally Destroyed, While Hutchinson Residence and Aaron Kellar Residence are Badly Damaged in Early Morning Fire—Total Loss Will Exceed $6,000.

One of the worst fires that ever broke out in Pancoastburg, occurred early Friday morning, when a general store and blacksmith shop were burned to the ground, and two residences badly damaged, while a number of other buildings in the central part of the village were threatened until the fire brigade got the fire under control.

The fire started about 6:20 o'clock in the Isaac Mason blacksmith shop, and quickly spread to the R. L. Hutchinson general store, destroying both shop and store together with contents, and eating into the residences of Aaron Kellar and R. L. Hutchinson, badly damaging the houses and contents, and threatening several other residences

The total loss is estimated at fully $6,000, with part insurance. Mr. Hutchinson is by far the heaviest loser, as his building and stock were lightly insured.

The alarm was quickly spread when the shop was found to be doomed, and a few minutes later bucket brigades had formed and were fighting hard to save the Hutchinson store, but their efforts were in vain, as the breeze carried the flames into the store and it was soon a mass of flames.

It was an exciting time in the little town for a half hour, and several residences were saved only by the most strenuous work on the part of the men and women who used the fire buckets.

The Kellar residence was much more badly damaged than the Hutchison home, and it will require considerable expense to repair the damage to both buildings. Most of the contents of the residences were removed to a place of safety before the fire was extinguished.

Burning embers fell among several of the buildings in the town, but the women and children joined the men and boys in extinguishing each brand as it fell, thus preventing virtually the entire building from being wiped out of existence.

Mr. Hutchinson will probably rebuild and re-open another store within a short time.

ORVILLE STOOKEY AGAIN IN TROUBLE

Orville Stookey, the 18-year-old youth who finds it difficult to stay out of trouble, and who was recently released from the work house where he had been sent for stealing a robe, is again in trouble.

Stookey was arrested and taken before Mayor Coffey, Friday morning, charged with obtaining money under false pretense, having secured $2 from a colored woman after representing that he was collecting for a man whom she is alleged to have owed.

Mayor Coffey, after lecturing the offender, gave him until Saturday night to return the $2, or stand trial with a view to landing in the work house.

After being called down a number of times for cursing while before Mayor Coffey, and protesting against having to obtain the money and repay it, he promised to secure the amount and pay it into the hands of Mayor Coffey to be returned to the woman.

The authorities have grown weary of giving Stookey a chance, and expect to place him in some institution for an indefinite period unless he mends his ways in a hurry.

PRACTICE AGAINST THE HUMANE LAWS

A youth said to be a son of Carey Short, well known horseman of near Circleville, was apprehended by Deputy Sheriff Nelson and the president of the Humane society Friday afternoon, for fastening the halters of two horses to the tails of two other horses in order to lead the animals.

When the youth's father was notified of the detention of his son, he immediately notified the young man to use the halters in leading the animals, and stated that he would later be up and pay the fine.

The method adopted by the young man is a violation of the humane laws of Ohio and will not be tolerated by the Humane society.

In Social Circles

Mr. and Mrs. Earl Barnett and Miss Myrtle McCoy entertained Thursday night with a brilliant six o'clock dinner, in compliment to Miss Agnes Monroe and Miss Martha McCulloch, of Muncie, and Miss Bess Radebaugh, of Lancaster.

It was a "Japanese dinner," most artistic and novel in its decorations. The centerpiece of the perfectly appointed table was a big basket of the Japanese yellow flowering curran and soft light streamed overhead from tiny Japanese lanterns enclosing the electric light bulbs. Similar tiny lanterns were used as candle shades.

The honor guests composed a very attractive trio, and Miss Monroe's beautiful piano renditions added greatly to the pleasure of the evening. Miss Monroe was wearing yellow crepe meteor. with garniture of pearls and lace.

Miss McCulloch's gown was an elaborate creation of pink taffeta, a puffed over-dress caught with rose buds and blue bows. Miss Radebaugh was pretty in a draped gown of pale blue crepe chiffon over charmeuse.

An elaborate luncheon was given at the Kerr home at one o'clock Friday, when the four loosers of the season's game in the Thursday Bridge club entertained the four winners.

Acting as hostesses were Mesdames W J. Galvin, Earl Barnett, W. D. Craig and Ray Maynard.

It was a four table luncheon, with white and yellow decorations carried out in lovely spring-time effect.

Spring flowers blossomed throughout the rooms and small gold baskets filled with white sweet peas and smilax, graced each table.

Cateress Woodson served a five-course luncheon embracing the season's delicacies.

The four club winners were Mesdames Willard Story, Garrie Spragg, Pearce Ballard and Roy Young. Seated with them were Mrs. Elmer Stinson, of Montpelier, Ind.; Misses Monroe and McCulloch, of Muncie, Ind.; Miss Radebaugh, of Lancaster; Mesdames Clarence Baer, Frank C. Parrett, D. L. Thompson, Albert Glascock. Miss McCoy.

Closing the Browning club year, was a postponed meeting Wednesday night, the excellen program in charge of the Art department, Mrs. Arthur Burgett, chairman.

One of the most delightful papers of the entire year was that of Miss Haidee Van Winkle on "Pictures I Have Seen," a personal reminiscence of Miss Van Winkle's visits to art galleries while abroad.

Mrs. S. E. Parrett contributed a very interesting paper on "From Quito, Ecuador, Down the Quito River," and Mrs. Loa Gregg an instructive one on "The Pottery of the American Indians."

Miss Florence Ogle brought up a back paper from the Household Economic department, treating the practical subject of 'Beds and Bed Rooms".

Two very pretty piano duets by Misses Helen McKee and Dorothy Bush, added to the program.

Miss Prudence Culhan was elected to associate membership.

Mrs. J. A. Worrell delightfully entertained the Friday Bridge club this afternoon.

"The wedding Tuesday evening of Miss Elizabeth Renick Weldon, daughter of Mrs. Richard Cowling Weldon, and Mr. Thomas David Harman, Jr., of Pittsburg, Pa., was one of widespread interest and distinctive charm.

It was a wedding not only of fashion, but one which has a tinge of romance. The bridegroom's father is a native of this county and when the son came back to the old home on a visit the wily little love god hovered near. The names of both families have stood in the social annals of Circleville and Pittsburg for many years Mr. T. D Harman, Sr., is one of the stockholders in the world-wide known National Stockman and his son is the advertising manager.

In choosing their attendants the bride selected her sister, Miss Adelaide Weldon. as maid of honor, and the bridegroom his brother, Mr. John Harman, as best man. The maid of honor and the bridesmaids were Miss Frances Harman, Miss Mary Story, Miss Mary Fullerton and Miss Lucile Weldon.

The church never opened its doors to a more winsome or beautiful bride. The simplicity of her wedding gown was a marked feature.

Miss Story and Miss Lucile Weldon wore green messaline with solid lace bodices. Miss Frances Harman yellow brocaded charmuese with lace and crystal trimmings and Miss Mary Fullerton, yellow messaline with a garniture of lace."—Circleville Daily Union Herald.

SURVEYORS AT WORK IN LOWER FAYETTE

A corps of U. S. geological surveyors, with headquarters in Greenfield, is now making a survey for a topographical may of Highland, Fayette and Ross counties in that vicinity.

So thoroughly are the men doing their work that every house, road, lane, pike, stream, hill, hollow and in fact everything of importance will be noted.

It is expected that the field work will be completed during the summer. A large part of the county has already been surveyed, it is understood. The maps will later be obtainable through the U. S. Geological survey, of Washington, D. C.

D. T. & I. DEPOT HAS A VISITOR

Deputy Fire Marshal, T. R. Bell, visited the D. T. & I. depot Friday morning, and carefully inspected the structure from top to bottom, and as a result of his visit it is more than probable that the structure. or a portion of it at least, may be condemned and the railroad ordered to make extensive repairs or rebuild the depot entirely.

Deputy Bell has been in this city for several days, inspecting quite a number of buildings which may be unsafe or fire traps, and the result of his visit may mean the issuing of orders for the removal of a number of old structures, or the radical repair of many.

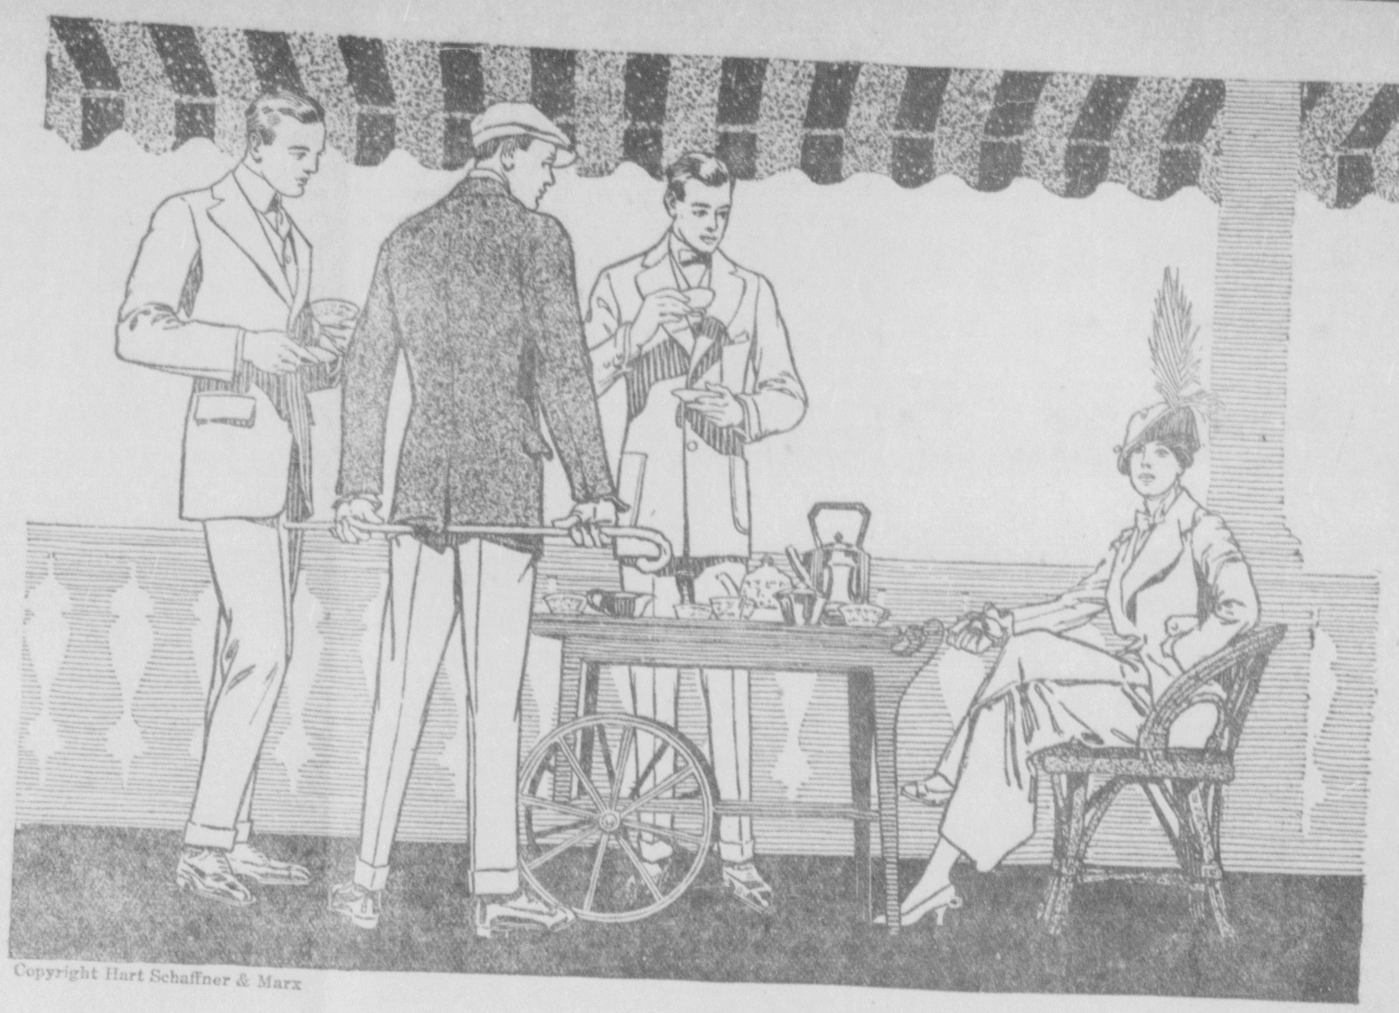

His report will be made to the State Fire Marshal, who will then communicate his findings to Mayor Coffey, with instructions to see that the recommendations are carried out to the letter.

STRIKERS WILL ENGAGE MILITIA

Train Bearing Reinforcements May Be Attacked.

CHAOS REIGNS AT TRINIDAD

Eight Great Coal Properties In Ruins In the Southern Colorado Fields. Forty-six Persons Dead and Many Wounded—Town of Rouse Reported Completely Surrounded by Enraged Strikers.

Trinidad, Colo., April 24.—One thousand strikers, who swept over the southern coal fields from Delagua to Rouse, leaving the smoking ruins of eight great coal properties in their wake and adding an additional score to the present death list of 26, are preparing for battle with the 300 militiamen being hurried into the war zone from Denver.

Ths town is in a furor of excitement. The fate of the district in effect hangs in the balance.

Camp fires gleam along the ridges and at Aguilar, the scene of the burning of the Empire mine property, 500 are gathered for what it is supposed will be the first concerted attack on the state troops. By virtue of the fighting the strikers hold possession of all the country between Ludlow, where 100 men and two machine guns under Major Hamrock are stationed, to the coal company plant at Rouse, 12 miles south of Walsenburg, to which fugitives from the burning camps taken by the strikers have fled.

At a late hour Rouse was reported to be completely surrounded, and 200 men who hold the camp with rifles and a machine gun, were preparing for an immediate attack. If Rouse falls, it is conceded that the camps of Lester, Cameron and Walsenburg will be abandoned. Property damage in excess of $1,000,000, it is estimated, has been done. The whole strike zone is in a state of terror. Should the troops fail in running the 18-mile gauntlet spread for their reception, murder, arson and pillage will follow, which may end only in the destruction of every mining property from Trinidad to Walsenburg. Even if the militia succeed, it is possible that the guerrilla warfare will exist for weeks.

John Lawson, international board member of the United Mine Workers of America, announced definitely that he would refuse to order the strikers to surrender their arms until they had been assured that they would receive fair treatment at the militia's hand. "There can be no peace without justice," he said.

The mines now known to be ablaze are the Primrose of the Colorado Fuel & Iron company; Mine No. 4 of the Southern Colorado Fuel company; the Empire and Southwestern mines of the Southwestern Fuel company; the Green Canon mine of the National Fuel comany, and the Rugby mine of the Colorado Fuel & Iron company. In addition the Royal and Broadhead mines, both operated by independent companies, are in ashes.

Union headquarters supplied the names of the three men kiled yesterday at the fight about the Empire property. The men were J. P. Gomez, Ben Vigil and Nick Schumich.

OHIO GUARDS EXPECT CALL

Officers Making Ready For Trip to Mexican Border.

Columbus, O., April 24.—"It is my honest opinion that every member of the Ohio National Guard will be in his uniform within 24 hours and ready to entrain for Mexico," declared Major David A. Lynch of the quartermaster's corps, roster clerk in the adjutant general's office.

Assistant Adjutant General E. M. Peoples, in the absence of Adjutant General Wood, said no orders to the Ohio guard have been received from Washington, but some were expected at any moment. All other guard officers expressed the opinion that the militia will be ordered to the front by Monday.

No time is being lost by guard officials in preparing for the journey to the Mexican border. Everything is being made ready so as to mobilize and entrain on the shortest possible time. Majors David A. Lynch and Arthur M. Reynolds of the commissary department prepared orders for rations. They computed the amount of foods needed to supply 6,000 to 14,000 rations. A ration is a soldier's subsistence for one day.

These orders were made up and will be held in readiness to send to supply houses to be filled immediately upon receipt of orders for mobilization.

Appeals for permission to be assigned to the first companies that may be sent to Mexico continue to pour in upon the adjutant general from former guard officers and men.

OHIO MINERS MAY STRIKE

Joint Committee Fails to Reach Agreement on Wage Scale.

Columbus, O., April 24.—Ohio soft coal operators and miners are still as far from agreement as they were when the mines closed April 1. A joint committee, consisting of three miners and three operators, talked over the situation, but failed absolutely to reach a wage agreement.

G. W. Savage, secretary-treasurer of the Ohio United Mine Workers, said that if the meeting adjourns without a settlement the miner delegates would vote for a statewide strike.

The miners insist that no settlement of the difficulty is in sight unless the operators agree to a wage contract based on the run-of-mine scale. The mine-run basis is fought by the eastern Ohio operators. Hocking valley operators are agreeable to a run-of-mine scale if the miners don't make the scale too high.

The run-of-mine law goes into effect May 20, but its constitutionality will be tested by the operators before that time.

REDFIELD DISCUSSES PROSPERITY

Chicago, Ills., April 23.—Secretary Redfield, of the Department of Commerce, made a prosperity speech here tonight before the Industrial Club. He took for his topic "A Sense of Proportion" and contended that any lessening of business activities at the present time was not peculiar to the United States alone; that a moderate and general decline of the cost of living has been noted all over the world and that the new tariff law had not brought the rush of foreign importations which was threatened. Mr. Redfield referred to the railroad rate situation and expressed the hope that the Interstate Commerce Commission's decision on the application of the Eastern railroads for freight rate advances would soon be decided.

"It is respectfully submitted for your consideration that the following statements are correct," said he.

"1. The adoption of the present fiscal policy of the nation has not been followed by the rush of foreign importations which was threatened.

"2. On the authority of experienced and unprejudiced observers of different nations there has been progressing for some months, and is now in progress, a moderate and quite general decline in prices to a lower level, a part of a movement of a similar character going on throughout the world.

"3. A general depression in business has long existed in many countries throughout the commercial world.

"The public has through press and platform these many years demanded a reduction in the cost of living. That reduction is now going on. Is it possible it should come without readjustments which however healthful are temporarily difficult? Are business booms born out of a falling market?

"If America is in despair I do not know it. There are difficulties here.

"Let us as we view the business situation neither minimize nor magnify it, neither localize it nor generalize it. Let us look at the facts as they are, not in their narrow and immediate and parochial significance. California is not in distress with her abounding crops. Kansas knows no weakness in the presence of her wheat. New York with nearly eighteen hundred milions in her savings banks alone faces no immediate necessity. We are free from the terrors of an inflexible currency. We are becoming free from those who mistakenly thought it would be long profitable to mopolize. We are readjusting ourselves upon an altered economic basis. Speculation is not rife. Our merchants are not overstocked. Our competing power was never as strong as now. Such dullness as there was, has been in part the bringer of a higher efficiency into our factories."

THINK WAR IS QUITE CERTAIN

Washington, D. C., April 24.—The United States and Mexico are actually at war was the declaration of Senator Borah.

Borah declared that the United States should immediately get out of Mexico. Senators Smoot and Boran criticized the way the Administration had handled the Mexican situation.

"Before another 48 hours is passed, in my judgment, we shall be at war with united Mexico," said Borah. "No one doubts what the forces of Huerta will do and no one can doubt what the forces of Carranza will do. In what I am saying I want it understood that I am not challenging anything that the President has said, but I believe that if the American flag ever goes up in Mexico, it will never come down."

6000 MARINES HAVE LANDED

By Associated Press.

Vera Cruz, April 24.—The strength of the American forces on shore at Vera Cruz were estimated today at 6,000 men by Commander Charles Hughes, Chief of Staff of Rear Admiral Badger. They are accompanied by a full equipment of field guns and machine guns.

Although General Gustav Maas was reported to be assembling inland several thousand troops for an assault on the city, Commander Hughes said that the American forces in Vera Cruz was capable of repelling such an attack without using the ships' big guns which might cause damage to the city.

Flag officers from the American fleet boarded every liner today and looked over the manifest for arms and ammunition. They warned the commanders to land no supplies. No alarming reports were received from Tampico today, but an American squadron outside the breakwater was coaled and ready to proceed there at an hour's notice, if necessary.

$25 REWARD FOR FAKE SOLICITOR

A reward of $25 is offered for the arrest and conviction of J. S. Doyle, the man who recently worked this county, taking subscriptions to magazines at unheard of prices.

Doyle, it will be recalled by those whom he approached, posed as a deaf and dumb man, writing out all he had to communicate. His offers were so liberal and his alleged condition so conducive of sympathy that he did a large business and received a snug sum of money before departing.

One man in the county, who has made an investigation as to the man's work, has just received a letter from Everybody's Magazine, in which the writer states that J. S. Doyle is a fraud and that the magazine has been trying to locate him for a long time, and offers $25 reward for his capture and conviction.

It is stated that the man is not a mute, and that his sole purpose is to defraud.

This is another argument in favor of citizens not patronizing solicitors of whom they know nothing.

If the man again appears in this community his presence should be made known to the police at once.

HORSE SALE CONTINUES WITH LARGE ATTENDANCE

Some Extra Fine Animals Are Sold Yesterday and Today at Prices Reaching Into the Hundreds of Dollars—Interest Does Not Lag and Bidding Is Spirited—Sale Ends Tonight.

The night session of the horse sales tonight, marks the close of the biggest sale ever conducted by the Ohio Horse Sales Company in this city, and the sales have been unusually satisfactory to both buyer and seller, and the management is greatly pleased with the results.

At the close of the session Thursday night there remained about 100 head of animals to go under the hammer, and Friday morning Auctioneer John Peace started in to have the last animal sold before the day was over, and with the rapid bidding, the animals were disposed of at an unusually fast rate.

The highest priced horse sold yesterday was Peter Kyle, 2 year old trotter, by Peter the Great, from the Bacon consignment, purchased by Ed Allen, of Lexington, Ky., for $600.

Caduceus, the 2nd, from the McCann consignment, brought $400 and Estes Laconda, a 3-year-old trotter, from Baker consignment, $400. W. B. Allison, of Toledo, purchased the former and Frank Hedrick, of Xenia, the latter.

The green trotter, Searchmont, was sold by Judge McCann to J. T. Taylor, of Tiffin, for $400.

Dr. C. H. Yale, of Boston, Mass., paid $500 for Little Squires, record 2:16¼ from the Thos. Dwyer consignment.

George McCrea's pacer, Cheerful Walter, went to W. G. Rudy, Millersburg, O., for the sum of $345.

Celia M, a pacer, consigned by Harry Stokes, of Urbana, brought $350, J. W. Elliott, of Anderson, Ind., made the purchase.

R. T. Scott assisted in the selling at the night session, owing to the strenuous work of Col. Pease during the day sessions.

Several choice animals were included in the list sold Friday, and each animal brought a good price.

GIVES WILSON GREAT POWER IN WAR TIME

By Associated Press.

Washington, D. C., April 24.—The Senate today without debate passed the volunteer army bill as agreed to by the conference of the House and Senate. The bill was designed to cure defects in the existing law relating to volunteer forces and is relied upon to put those forces on a war-time footing, almost similar to the regular army. The volunteer army would be disbanded at the end of hostilities. The President would call for volunteers by proclamation, appoint the officers instead of governors of states and would have absolute authority to organize brigades regardless of state lines. The President is also given full authority for the organization of the coast defenses and all the "adjuncts that may be necessary in the prosecution of war."

Washington, D. C., April 24.—The House passed the volunteer army bill this afternoon and it now goes to the President.

NOTED DOCTOR SPEAKS TO WOMEN

By Associated Press.

Washington, D. C., April 23.—"Twentieth Century Motherhood" was discussed by Dr. Helen C. Putnam, former president of the American Academy of Medicine of Providence, R. I., at the opening of the third session of the International Congress on the Welfare of the Child here tonight.

"New ideals are stirring mothers," she declared.

"That love and good intentions must be re-enforced with special knowledge is one, and they demand instruction in the care of their children.

"Another ideal arousing motherhood to greater efficiency is that man-made law dividing parental responsiblities must yield to biologic laws which punish the child and through it the race for mistakes of either parent regardless of sex. Neither may consent to blighting the child, whether by personal works or by social government.

"Along with duty to fit herself for her vocation and to discharge her community as well as her home responsibilities for the child, the new mother is coming to see that daughters, like sons, can be safe, strong and happiest only as they are educated to be self-supporting by wholesome labor.

"Home making must come into its own and be rated among specified occupations in the Census, with an economic valuation commanding respect."

STILL WORKING TO AVOID CLASH

EVERYBODY GOING TO SEE THE CIRCUS

Reports indicate that an enormous crowd will throng the city tomorrow to see the Hagenbeck-Wallace greater shows, which will unload in this city early tomorrow morning.

Not only will several thousand persons be here from out of the city, but Washington citizens will also enjoy the big free parade and later witness the great variety of entertainment under the big "white top".

It will be one of the largest circus crowds in recent years, if present indications are realized.

Two performances will be given by the circus, one in the afternoon and the other at night, and the superior nature of the Hagenbeck-Wallace show is too widely known to require further praise.
